St. Vincent de Paul Society

Today's Gospel helps us move all the talk about God's kingdom out of the Scripture and into our daily lives. We can't make the kingdom present by ourselves. At first, Jesus tells the disciples to "give them some food yourselves." They can't; human resources are not sufficient to make present what God's kingdom promises. Jesus then takes the meager human resources—"five loaves and two fish"—and blesses them and gives them to disciples to distribute to the crowds. What the disciples cannot do alone they can do with Jesus' blessing.

Thank you for all your support!

Furniture and financial donations are always welcome. You are too! Come join the St. Vincent de Paul Society and be a communal part of your parish. Call 822-3132 for more information.

Dear Parishioners,

This week we will discuss the changes to the Liturgy of the Eucharist. The beginning dialogue will follow the other changes in this dialogue... "The Lord be with you...and with your spirit." As the dialogue continues the priest will say, Give thanks to the Lord our God. The response will now be, It is right and just. This simpler response will then tie in more completely to the words of the priest in the Eucharistic Prayer II, It is truly right and just, our duty and salvation."

In the words of institution or consecration, the most notable change will be in the words of the wine. The priest replaces the word "cup" with "chalice." This change is meant to reflect that the vessel we use at Mass is not simply a cup we would use at home. That which holds the Precious Blood of Our Lord is sacrificial in nature. This Blood of Jesus was shed for the forgiveness of our sins.

As the Eucharistic Prayer continues, "for all" will be changed to for many. As we heard before, this is a closer translation from the Sacred Scriptures and the words of Jesus in Saints Matthew and Mark. The change in wording does not alter what we believe as Catholics - that Jesus came to save all humanity.

The Mystery of Faith will be different. The familiar acclamation Christ has died, Christ has Risen... will no longer be one of the options. The other acclamations are words of faith that are spoken to Jesus Himself: We proclaim your death O Lord! "When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup WE proclaim your death O Lord." The priest will also no longer will say, Let us proclaim the Mystery of faith but rather, The Mystery of faith. This is similar to the change from the ending of the readings that were changed a number of years ago from This is the Word of the Lord/ This is the Gospel of the Lord to The Word of the Lord/The Gospel of the Lord. It states the reality without having to point to what we are or have done. It reflects a response of faith.

This next change may at first come off as sounding a little awkward. Before we come to Communion the present invitation says, "Behold the Lamb of God. Behold Him who takes away the sins of the world, happy are those who are called to His supper." The last part will now be replaced with Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb. There are two key allusions to Scripture here: St. John the Baptist identifying Jesus as the Lamb and the angel's declaration in Revelation regarding those "called to the wedding feast of the Lamb." Our current response, Lord I am not worthy to receive you, but only say the word and I shall be healed will now be, "Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof, but only say the word, and my soul shall be healed" which comes from the words of the Centurion, who asked Jesus to heal his servant in Saints Luke and Matthew. As we come to receive the Body and Blood of Jesus, let us look to that Centurion and come to Jesus with that same level of faith.

I would like to thank Diva Corbelletta and Josie Harte for all the work and hours they spent weeding the front gardens of the Church.

I would like to welcome Fr. George, who comes to us from Ghana. Fr. George will be the Hospital Chaplain and assist me during the summer months. I'm sure you will welcome him with the joy and hospitality that you greet all visitors to our parish. Welcome, Fr. George!

In Jesus,
Fr. Bob

Take 5 for Faith

JULY 31: 18TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

It is not always easy to distinguish between what is and is not bread—what will and will not fail to satisfy. Many things we spend our money on do, in fact, satisfy. Sometimes they even make possible a more joyful life: a big, comfortable chair, for example, especially if it's used regularly to read with a small child. The truth is we always know what will lead to a more love-filled life and what will not. It just takes some time to surface. Give some thought today to what you value.

MONDAY, AUGUST 1

Alphonsus Liguori, bishop, doctor of the church

Skeptics abound. Those who retain their faith are tempted toward the fringes: a severe expression of religion that lacks mercy or a laxity that makes everything seem relative and even irrelevant. Does that sound like a description of our generation? Actually, it's how many described the 18th century. In that divided age Saint Alphonsus Liguori became the champion of the middle ground. "Nothing else is required than to act toward God, in the midst of your occupations, as you do toward those who love you and whom you love." In good times and in bad, love knows how to behave.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2

You have to admire Moses. Two people close to him—Aaron and Miriam—had started asking why they couldn't be prophets, too. To settle the matter God called the three of them out for a talking-to: God trusted Moses, God said—end of argument. What's more, God punished Miriam with an instant case of leprosy. But Moses just as quickly asked the Lord to forgive Miriam. We see something similar when Jesus called Saint Peter to walk out on the water to him. Peter's initial faith sank pretty quickly once he was out on the water, but Jesus caught him before he could go under. It's a virtue to keep faith—and to reach out a forgiving hand to others when they have not kept faith with you.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3

The story of Jesus' encounter with a Gentile woman distraught over her daughter's illness is troubling. Not only does Jesus seem reluctant to help, but he even calls her a dog, as if to dismiss her as not worthy of him. The woman is undaunted and persists, and Jesus not only relents but is profoundly impressed. While we may not like seeing Jesus in this unkind light, the point may be that Jesus—human like us in all things but sin—learns something in a human way. When the wideness of God's mercy confronts cultural prejudice, Jesus matures in his thinking, just as we all do if we are open to the grace of seeing beyond our assumptions.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4

Saint John Mary Vianney, priest

Saint John Vianney was a member of an endangered species—a French Catholic priest in the aftermath of the French Revolution. Times were difficult and persecution of the church had been heavy, yet Vianney found a way to live his vocation with such devotion that the town of Ars where he was posted attracted thousands of pilgrims a year. It is said that in his final years he put in 16 to 18 hours a day in the confessional. Though he yearned for a life of quiet contemplation, he stuck it out. The lesson for all of us: Our call to serve begins right here, right now.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 5

Dedication of Basilica of Saint Mary Major in Rome

The longer a building has been around, the more likely it is to attract legends. Few structures have stood longer than the Basilica of Saint Mary Major of Rome, which dates to the fourth century. Perhaps it is no surprise that this beautiful basilica—the largest in the world to honor the Mother of God—has attracted its share of lore. According to one story, a wealthy Roman couple pledged their fortune to Mary, and she responded with a miraculous summer snowfall, instructing them to build a church on the site. Today, the day of dedication for "Our Lady of the Snows" has sometimes been celebrated with a shower of white rose petals released from the basilica's dome. If a white rose is not at hand, wear something white today to honor the Blessed Mother and the buildings dedicated to her.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6

Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord

The ways faith can transfigure us may not be as dramatic as the Lord's—whose "face shone like the sun" and "clothes became white as light"—but they are just as real. Step into a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous and listen to the stories of how faith has transformed people's lives. Look at the icons of pop culture who credit their own creative transformations and success to God. During the final episode of her namesake show, Oprah Winfrey said: "Nothing but the hand of God has made this possible for me." What has the hand of God made possible in your own life? What more needs transformation? Ask and receive!

The next Youth Group will be this Sunday July 31st from 6pm-8pm on the field behind the church for kickball. All are welcome!

Save the Date for Got Faith?
