Fr. Bob has asked that as we come closer to the changes in the Roman Missal, his letters that explain these changes be reprinted.

Ritual has always been a part of the Church's Liturgy. It stems from our roots in the Jewish Liturgy. The early Church followed the example of Jesus. They read the stories of the Last Supper, broke bread and shared the cup as the everlasting memorial of Jesus' presence. In 1570, Pope Pius V issued the First Roman Missal. He collected all the prayers and rituals for the Latin Rite of the Catholic Church. This Missal has remained the same, except for some minor changes, for over 500 years. It wasn't until the reforms of the Second Vatican Council that any major changes took place. The Council Fathers and Blessed John XXIII wished to reform the Church using pastoral guidelines. These changes brought about the movement of the language of the Mass from Latin to the language of the people. The priest, in order to be seen as the one who leads prayer, now turned and faced the people.

Immediately following the Council, National Conferences began the process of translating the Latin text into the vernacular. In 1969 the First edition was created. This process continued and a second edition was promulgated in 1975. In the year 2000, Blessed John Paul II created the third edition of the Roman Missal. He added new prayers and the celebration of recently canonized saints. Blessed John Paul II asked the English speaking countries to begin the translation of these new prayers that would be in closer conjunction with the Latin. In 2010, Pope Benedict XVI approved the new translation that will take effect this Advent.

We have to remember that with this new translation or Third Edition of the Roman Missal, the Mass itself will not be changing. Some of the words and responses that we have grown accustomed will change. This is to reflect a better and closer translation from the Latin text. The English translation is one of the last to be done in the Universal Church and will now bring the English speaking Catholics in closer unity to the Mass celebrated throughout the world. The changes will certainly be confusing in the beginning, but the hope is that the new prayers will help raise our hearts to encounter the transcended God. It will be a great opportunity to re-evaluated how we come to celebrate Mass. It is an exciting time and I hope one that will bring us to a deeper renewal and love of the Mass.

Next week I will begin to explain some of the parts that will be changing and hopefully present the reasons for the changes.

On Friday, September 16, Bishop Murphy awarded Frank and Maryann Sujecki the Diocesan St. Agnes Award for their work and dedication to the Diocese and parish. I would like to congratulate them both and publicly thank them for their service to our parish. Thank you, Frank and Maryann!
