Special Collection

The second collection on May 5th and 6th is in support of All Saints Regional School and the Tomorrow's Hope Foundation. Tomorrow's Hope provides tuition assistance to students in need attending Catholic elementary schools and grants directly to schools to offset general expenses. Last year the Foundation gave over $1.79 million to students while actual student need was over $6 million.

All Saints Regional has many needs. Tuition, parish subsidy and fundraising all help to balance the budget. Each year, however, new technologies and curricular needs arise. The money that you give to the second collection on May 5th and 6th help to expand the school's academic excellence and help it remain a place where our faith is taught and lived.

Sustaining Catholic elementary education is vital to the future of our society and our Church. Our students are our future. They are tomorrow's hope. Please be as generous as possible with your donation on May 5th and 6th.

Take Five for Faith

SUNDAY, APRIL 22, 2012

Credit for today's Earth Day holiday goes to Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, who believed this occasion, first observed in 1970, would open the eyes of U.S. politicians to popular support for laws and policies to protect the environment. In his Earth Magna Carta, John McConnell, the founder of the Earth Day movement, put it this way: "All individuals and institutions have a mutual responsibility to act as trustees of Earth, seeking the choices in ecology, economics, and ethics that will eliminate pollution, poverty, and violence, foster peaceful progress, awaken the wonder of life, and realize the best potential for the future of the human adventure." In this Easter season of renewed life, how can you help make the adventure of God's beloved creation better for all?

FEAST OF GEORGE, MARTYR

The long history of religion also contains a long history of division, but occasionally there is a glimmer of hope for mutual understanding—sometimes in the most unexpected places. Saint George is best known for legends of dragon-slaying, but in death he has accomplished an even greater feat, providing a common point of reverence across nearly all the Western faith traditions. He is highly celebrated as a saint in both the Western and Eastern Christian churches, but the Orthodox shrine of St. George at Beith Jala—a small town in the Bethlehem region of the West Bank—is also well attended by Muslims and Jews. It's nice to know that there is one spot in the world, at least, where the dragon of hostile religious division has been slain.

TUESDAY, APRIL 24

FEAST OF FIDELIS OF SIGMARINGEN, PRIEST, MARTYR

Mark Rey, a 16th-century Swiss lawyer, dealt with many of the same things lawyers do today: interpreting and applying legal principles, advocating for those in need, and dealing with corruption and injustice. Though his profession was not "religious" in nature, he went about it in a truly gospel way, tending to people who were oppressed, financially strapped, and most vulnerable. He became a Capuchin Franciscan priest, taking the name Fidelis, which means "faithful," and continued this passion throughout his life. Ten years after joining the Capuchins, Fidelis was killed by soldiers for refusing to renounce his beliefs. What seemingly "nonreligious" experiences in your life have led you to give all for your faith?

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25

FEAST OF MARK, EVANGELIST

While it's unlikely the "Mark" of the gospel of that name is the same as the "Mark" mentioned in several other places in the New Testament, the latter followed the same path the gospel describes. He worked with Saint Paul but later "deserted" Paul on one of the apostle's mission journeys, provoking a sharp disagreement and a parting of the ways. Yet he clearly played a role as a fellow-worker of Paul (Philemon 24). The Gospel of Mark asks believers to follow Jesus' example of servant love whatever the misunderstanding or conflict it may cost, because Christ will be with you the whole way.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26

One of the oddest post-Resurrection stories tells of the apostle Philip sprinting up to a carriage and explaining scripture to the passenger—who is so moved that he accepts baptism on the spot! Is it too much of a stretch to imagine the homeless, jobless person who walks up to your car asking for help while you're sitting at a traffic light to be an apostle of good news? The 50 days of Eastertime allow the Paschal Mystery to penetrate your most ordinary experiences and see in them the hand of God breaking in. That doesn't necessarily mean you should give cash to every person who asks, but even the most mundane encounter might be a reminder that the Resurrection of the Lord breaks down conventional barriers between human beings.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27

When J. Sterling Morton moved to Nebraska in 1854, one of the first things he and his wife did was plant their property with trees, bushes, and flowers. On the prairie, trees were important: They acted as windbreaks, helped prevent soil erosion, could be used for firewood and construction, and provided shade. Morton was a newspaper editor and later a Nebraska Territory official, and he used both those platforms to promote tree-planting, culminating in a national holiday for the proper planting of trees: Arbor Day. "Each generation," Morton said, "takes the earth as trustees." What God has given, each generation is to protect and pass on. Get involved in your local Arbor Day activities or find some other ways to conserve God's great gift of creation.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28

FEAST OF PETER MARY CHANEL, PRIEST, MARTYR

In 1831 St. Peter Mary Chanel joined the Society of Mary and soon realized his dream of becoming a missionary. With several other Marists, he traveled to Western Oceania and began healing and educating the local people. Many chose to be baptized based on Peter's witness: "He loves. He does what he teaches. He forgives his enemies. His teaching is good," said one of his converts in a simple tribute that captures the essence of the Christian ethic. Love, teach well, forgive your enemies.
