Dear Parishioners,

Come to me, all you who find life burdensome and I will give you rest.'Mt 11:28

The more complex life becomes, the more stress it brings to our daily lives. Who of us has not looked back on earlier days of our lives and have longed for the peacefulness of those times? Certainly when we were young most of us had less "worries" which would have made life seem more peaceful. When I was a Curate or Associate Pastor, I never could have imagined how much more complex my life would become when I became a Pastor. The first few years were very tough and gave me many sleepless nights. I worried about the parish and how we would pay our bills and get out of debt. I was confronted with the boiler, roof and air conditioner issues that seemed beyond my competency. This new challenge was a little daunting, to say the least. I focused not on the good that was happening, but kept looking at the road ahead and there seemed to be no end to what had to be done. What I realized at those moments in prayer (especially late at night in the church when I could not sleep), was that Jesus was telling me that I did not have to do this alone. He told me He was there offering His peace and rest if I just could just trust His promise. It wasn't easy at times, I can tell you. But the signs were there constantly. The scripture passage "Trust in the Lord" kept coming before me. Things like plaques from people or scripture being given to me. Our Youth Group was at a joint meeting with St. Peter's Youth Group planning Midnight Run. We were asked to put our hand in this box of sand to pick out a rock with a Scripture passage written on it. And guess what mine was?...Trust in the Lord. Coincidence? I don't think so. Jesus at work? You can be sure! For some this may sound childish, but that's OK.

Jesus prays today in thanksgiving that what has been hidden from the wise, He has revealed to the child-like. I am so grateful to Jesus for those "child-like" moments in my life. Coming to Jesus and allowing Him to "yoke" Himself to me makes the burden easier. When I was able to give it all to Jesus, things began to fall into place. He sent people in my life to help me with the task ahead. These people took some of the burden and apprehension away. I know they didn't come into the picture by chance, but rather by the hand of Jesus. This gift of Jesus was the fulfillment of His promise in today's Gospel...come to me all you who find life burdensome and I will give you rest. Jesus has been my help and support and when I was able to give it to Him and His purpose, life took a different turn. I bring it all to Him and ask for His direction and strength. This is of course not always easy...my will still, at times, gets in the way. Do I still fall short? Yes, of course I do. I don't say this to brag or to insinuate that I am better than anyone else. It is stated to help you believe in the power of Jesus' promises. They are offered to all who seek Him out. It is not done in our own power but through God. Jesus has given us power of the Holy Spirit. We hear that encouragement in St. Paul's letter today. St. Paul reminds us that we must choose to live in the power of the Holy Spirit. Through that awesome power we are able to place ourselves at the disposal of Jesus. When we do this we allow Him to share our burdens and offer His rest from our worries. I am grateful to Jesus for His presence and I thank Him for all of you. You have made His presence known to me. Thank you for all you do! Trust in Him and look for the signs of His presence. Sometimes they are right under our noses. To some this may seem too child-like and unrealistic. To them and to all, I encourage you to trust. Trusting in Him really does work for those who believe. JESUS BE PRAISED!

As we enter summer, please don't put aside worship. There are many activities and parties but our worship of Jesus at Mass should always be a priority and one not taken lightly. Have a wonderful summer!
School re-opens
Tuesday, September 2nd.

Catholic Heart Workcamp along with Catholic youth ministers and teens, have formed this ministry across the country and beyond. 13,000 strong this summer, in over 50 different cities, parish youth groups and schools have joined together to serve as Christ modeled. As bold Catholics we embrace this challenge to put ourselves aside to serve and restore homes and hearts, feed the hungry, lift the spirits of children, give hope to the disabled, and provide help through partnerships with social agencies.

This year St. Boniface Martyr will be represented at one of these camps by five teenagers from our parish Youth Group from July 6-13 in Cumberland, Maryland. Please pray for our teens as they live out their faith! As always, thank you for all of your prayer and support of our ministry.

For an updated schedule of youth group events join our Facebook page 'St. Boniface Martyr Youth Group' or email the youth minister, Chris, at stbonym@gmail.com.

There is NO Youth Group Meeting this Sunday.
We will resume after our return from camp.

Parish Registration: We welcome all new members of our parish family. We ask all parishioners to welcome and invite new neighbors and their families to become a part of St. Boniface Martyr Parish. Parish registration (census) forms available by the main doors of the church and in the parish office for new members. Please return completed forms to the parish office.

Baptism: Parents wishing to present a child for Baptism should be registered members of St. Boniface Martyr Parish. Parents are required to have a Baptism Preparation Interview and attend a Baptism class. Baptisms are celebrated on the last Sunday of the month. Godparents must be fully initiated members of the Catholic Church (having received the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist), and provide a sponsor certificate. Please call 676-0676 to pre-arrange.

Marriage: Couples wishing to be married should call the parish office before any other arrangements are made. A minimum of six months is needed for marriage preparations.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA): An ongoing process of formation for those who ever wonder if they should become "Catholic". If interested, call Fr. Bob at 676-0676.

Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays 4pm-4:45pm in church. ❖

Take Five for Faith

July 6: Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

When Jesus says to take his yoke upon you, it may sound as if he is saying: “You’ve got work to do.” But it’s his yoke. He invites you to share his mission! Someone linked to Jesus keeps step with him, conforms to his dreams, his passions, his single-minded dedication to the poor. If you are yoked to him, you will bring the kingdom of God closer by showing others that in you Christ is present. You don’t have to shout your religion on the street corner, but by being yoked to him you will not miss a chance to do good.

Monday, July 7

Ever wonder if you’re getting religion right? Obviously it’s more than a matter of obeying rules, attending church, or keeping God happy. But is there a way to measure how well you’re doing on the trail of faith? Saint Paul offered nine signs that a person is heading in a gospel direction: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. Evaluate yourself against this gang-of-nine spiritual benchmark Paul recommends. Which ones are bearing fruit in your life? Which need a bit more pruning and cultivation?

Tuesday, July 8

Karma’s not a Catholic word. But it’s not a concept opposed to Christian teaching either. “You reap what you sow” is a biblical idea found in both Testaments. What goes into every day comes out each night in restful sleep or anxious wakefulness, in pleasant memories or grumbling indignation. Those who seek peaceful hearts will refrain from bullying tactics and fighting words. Those who long for a kinder, gentler world will practice kindness habitually. Those who hope for rich lives will forsake poor choices. Respect the boomerang-effect and choose wisely!

Wednesday, July 9: Memorial of St. Augustine Zhao Rong and companions

Politics and religion can be a volatile mix, and China offers a prime example. Catholicism was brought to that country by Europeans during the era of colonial expansion four centuries ago. Chinese authorities linked the religion with the European colonial powers, even though missionaries and native-born converts such as soldier-turned-priest Augustine Zhao Rong did their best to steer clear of the political struggles of the age. The 120 martyrs honored today died between 1648 and 1930 because of a clash of governments, but they live on in hearts and memories because of their witness to faith.

Thursday, July 10

Cultures from East to West have a bogeyman: a mythical creature with no specific features whose sole purpose is to terrify children into correct behavior. Some of that fear gets projected onto the popular idea of God—another powerful unseen Being who supposedly will get you if you don’t shape up. God’s wrath is poorly appreciated as a cosmic angerfest gathering volume and velocity across history’s crimes toward an apocalyptic blowout. Yet divine mercy outperforms divine wrath on every recorded occasion. Trust in God. Leave scaring people to the bogeyman.

Friday, July 11: Memorial of St. Benedict

In a Midwestern convent sacristy hangs a hand towel embroidered with the slogan: Ora est labora, inadvertently (perhaps) changing the word et, “and,” to est, “is,” and twisting Saint Benedict’s slogan “prayer and work”—a worthy summary of monastic and Christian life—to “prayer is work.” That might be funnier if so many didn’t live by another incorrect equation: “My work is my prayer,” a comfort in our frenetic society, but it just ain’t so! Prayer is time for the other—time for God.

Saturday, July 12: Memorial of the Blessed Virgin Mary

According to the church’s Directory on Popular Piety and the Liturgy, the traditional Saturday memorial of Mary is “a remembrance of the maternal example and discipleship of the Blessed Virgin Mary,” “a prelude and introduction to the celebration of Sunday,” and “a sign that the Virgin Mary is continuously present and operative in the life of the church.” It’s tempting to compartmentalize religion to one day a week. The steadfastness of Mary is a reminder that religion belongs in your life every day.
