Who Are The Catholic Daughters?

Under the patronage of the Blessed Mother, the Catholic Daughters of the Americas are united by their faith in Jesus Christ, in their devotion to the church and the Holy See. It is one of the oldest and largest organizations of Catholic women in the Americas. They donate to charities, administer scholarship programs and strive "to be helping hands where there is pain, poverty, sorrow or sickness." The CDA motto is "Unity and Charity."

The CDA was formed in 1903 and today numbers 75,000 members in 1,250 courts (local chapters) in 45 states across the country, and in Puerto Rico, Mexico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. Catholic Daughter women enjoy each other's company at meetings and work hard for their parishes and communities. Deeply spiritual, together they share faith, love of God and a distinctly feminine spirituality alluded to by Pope John Paul II when he spoke of the necessity of "feminine genius" in today's world. The program includes concerns of today's church and society as well as issues that affect the well-being of women and children.

The Legislative Program encourages interested members to learn about laws that may influence their faith and to contact their state representatives to make their personal positions known through Operation Morning Star [The Catholic Daughters of the Americas does not endorse political candidates]. Girls and young women ages 6-18 can join the Junior Catholic Daughters of the Americas. Young college women can become members of Campus Courts at some universities.

Women 18 years and older are invited to join us at 11am on the first Monday of each month in the parish center and see what we do!

MEDIA MISGUIDANCE

By Rev. Msgr. James M. McNamara

The recently concluded Synod on the Family in Rome is sparking sound bites from the media. There were a number of very important concerns discussed in Rome. We need to be careful about media misguidance that comes down to catchy phrases and dramatic sound bites.

Our rich Catholic tradition and the doctrinal teachings of the Catholic Church cannot be reduced to phrases and sound bites. The magisterial teaching of the Catholic Church is not up for grabs. Pope Francis is trying to create a more pastoral and welcoming approach to persons who seek to live the Christian life. We are all sinners. We all fall short of perfection. At present it seems to me that the members of the Synod are in dialogue with how to assist people on this Christian journey to live with integrity as they strive to grow in Christian witness faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Understandably there will be differences of opinion. Speaking the truth in love involves holding together both the truth as we proclaim it and the persons we value as members of the Christian community. Neither disregarding Church teaching nor excluding people through judgment serves the mission of the Church in the world today. I dare say that even the categories of liberal and conservative do not help in fostering a healthy Christian community.

In this age of openness there have been reports given to the media about the work of the Synod. This is fine but it is risky. It leaves the Synod vulnerable to misguidance by the media. We need to allow the Synod to do its work and not latch on to every sound bite that emanates from the media. People tend to give credence to what is on the internet, television or in print. Let us be astute about the limitations of the media.

First, the media loves a sound bite. But sound bites do not allow for context and the foundation and history of a given statement, no less the meaning of a synod. Second, whether it be progressives or conservatives, the media love to give their own spin on things rather than simply report the news. The same exact quote can be used to make a point via one's ideology. This is not helpful. In addition, too often condescension and prejudice mark the tone of the speaker's remarks. If you want to receive comprehensive information about the Synod (and news about the Church) I encourage you to turn to Telecare, our Diocesan Television station which is now available on more platforms than ever before. Telecare is available on Cablevision, Channel 29 (Nassau and Suffolk) and Channel 137 (elsewhere), Verizon Fios, Channel 296 and Time Warner Cable, Channel 471. Telecare is also available on line at TelecareTV.org. The Long Island Catholic Magazine comes out monthly and they also have a website that is rich in Catholic teaching and news: www.licatholic.org.

In today's world and in today's Church we have lost the art of respectful conversation. As the Synod members continue their work, our best stance is one of prayer to the Holy Spirit for guidance and inspiration. This Synod is meant to be a preparation for the Synod of 2015. So we have ample time and opportunity for prayer and to gather together as one in the presence of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament and around the table of the Lord where we are privileged to hear the Word of God and to receive the Body and Blood of Christ as we sinners seek to become saints.

May the Lord give you peace.

DEDICATION OF THE LATERAN BASILICA

Catholics sometimes identify where they live by the church they attend. It often indicates a familiar geographical area and the Catholic community in that vicinity. The church proper is the spiritual home for that community—your spiritual home. Even the pope has a home church: the Lateran Basilica in Rome. The building is called “mother and head of all the churches of the city and the world.” For the first thousand years of Christianity, it was also the pope’s official residence. Renew your dedication to your home church and honor the ways it sustains you.

✠ MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10

FEAST OF ST. LEO THE GREAT

When you look closely at the life of Jesus, you realize you are dealing with someone who defies easy description. He clearly was human: walking, talking, eating with those around him, even weeping when the occasion called for it. Yet he clearly was more than human, attested to not only by miraculous events but also by his irreproachable wisdom, unprecedented insight, and unlimited compassion. What to make of such a fellow? Pope Leo I answered the riddle for early Christians by positing the union of two natures in one person—fully human and fully divine. Thanks to Leo, we have a full appreciation of the mystery of Jesus the Christ. Spend some time with this mystery today.

✠ TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11

FEAST OF ST. MARTIN OF TOURS

When obligations pull you away from what you’d rather be doing, think of Saint Martin of Tours, who didn’t waiver from his wishes but also accepted his obligations. Martin wanted to be a monk but was forced to enlist in the military when he was 15. Once he finally became a monk, the people of Tours insisted he become their bishop and he reluctantly acquiesced. Even when he was near death, Martin prayed, “Lord, if your people still need me, I do not refuse the work. Your will be done.”

✠ WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12

FEAST OF ST. JOSAPHAT

The year 2014 has not been a good one for Ukrainian unity, given competing ethnic and national loyalties that have at times erupted in violence. For that matter, the year 1623 wasn’t much better. Josaphat, a monk and archbishop of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church, was killed by a Christian mob with a different religious loyalty. Regardless of the cause, no justification for warring with our sisters and brothers will hold water with the Creator of us all. Make amends and heal divisions while you can, so that people of all nations and religious backgrounds may live in peace.

✠ THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13

FEAST OF ST. FRANCES XAVIER CABRINI

How do you respond when the unexpected happens? Like Frances Xavier Cabrini (1850-1917), you may have a path in mind, only to find yourself suddenly derailed. Frances founded the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart in her native Italy. Inspired to evangelize and serve, she set her sights on China. But Pope Leo XXIII urged her to go “not to the East, but to the West,” where poor immigrant Catholics were struggling to survive. Guided by the desire to extend Christ’s love to others, Frances took the change of geography in stride. The Missionary Sisters went to New York, healing those in need through education, healthcare, and other outreach.

✠ FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14

What is the church saying about purgatory? Old cathedrals preserve images of a leaping sea of flames in which loose-haired women and swarthy men (and usually a bishop or two) are paying the penalty for their dissolute living. Replace the word “penalty” with “preparation,” and the idea of a “place” with “process.” That comes closer to how the church speaks of purgatory today. If God is Love, then anything unloving or unyielding in our spirits must be surrendered before approaching final union with the Lord. Hardness isn’t compatible with love. Let it go now, or later.

✠ SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15

FEAST OF ST. ALBERT THE GREAT

Conflicts between science and religion such as that of “evolution vs. creationism” have become all too common in the culture wars of recent years. If Albert the Great were alive today, we would likely be talking instead about evolution and creationism. Albert may have lived in the Middle Ages, but he had a positively modern outlook on the natural world. Curious about all matters scientific, philosophical, and religious, he never stopped studying, learning, or integrating. We can do the same. The more we learn about the world, the more we learn about God.
