St. Vincent de Paul Society

Today as we celebrate Christ the King, may we open the door of our heart so wide that we may listen to the voice of Jesus calling us to help build His kingdom here on earth. This month, through your gifts, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul was able to bring God's love and mercy to families, providing them with food, and help with utility, rent and other bills. God Bless You!

As you place your gift in the Society of St. Vincent de Paul poor box located by the stairs near the main doors of the church, know that you are hearing the words of Jesus and living them out.

Furniture donations are always welcome; please call 822-3132. If you wish to join the St. Vincent de Paul Society and be a communal part of your parish, please call 676-0676. Thank you!

MATTERS OF THE HEART

As many of you know, I have a passion for fitness and exercise. Back in early October I was disappointed to learn that my Trainer and Coach, Jonathan, would be leaving his current place of employment because he received a better offer from another fitness establishment. Jon told me "it was an opportunity that I could not refuse with better pay and I am starting my own programs and building my own client/customer base." He reminded me of myself when I was in my early to mid 20's, as I was always striving to better myself or simply make more money and move up the ladder in the workplace. I must admit I was not too surprised when he shared this information with me as he is a talented, confident and personable young man.

Earlier last week, I travelled to Jon's new place of employment to chat with him and discuss my fitness goals with him, and the possibility of utilizing his services as a Coach and Trainer. I could clearly see the excitement and enthusiasm he displayed about his new job with all its challenges and unlimited potential for him, and his clients as well. He shared with me some of his goals and visions for his future. He's very proud of signs advertising his program complete with his contact information and his professional qualifications, certificates and degrees to promote his program as a Personal Trainer. He even has an office to meet privately with clients. He is also considering branching out to start his own training program for those interested in becoming Personal Trainers.

My meeting with him brought back many fond memories of when I was his age and how I, too, was exceedingly happy about my accomplishments in life like possessing a BA Degree and New York State Certification as an English Teacher, and the fact that I was pursuing a Master's Degree. I was also rather proud of having what I thought were two prestigious jobs, a Junior High School English teacher, and a Training Instructor in the Human Resources Department of The Dime Savings Bank. Yes, they are wonderful accomplishments, and everyone should work hard, and be proud of his/her accomplishments in life, but with age, wisdom and experience I have come to the conclusion that no earthly pleasure, achievement or recognition can truly make us happy...for these are all temporary and fleeting.

This really hit home for me when I read a Facebook post from The Mentors Channel, "as you get older, you find out that true happiness is not in how much you make, or how many degrees or certificates you hold, or how big your house is, or how fancy your car is...it's about finding peace and joy; a calmness in your life that will soon become the most important thing to you. Your family is what will matter to you; love is what will matter to you." I would also like to add to this by saying your faith and unwavering confidence that God has indeed blessed you and me and that should matter as well! God has blessed every human being with talents, gifts and unique abilities. Be thankful for that, not only during this season of Thanksgiving, but all year long. After all, it's quality that counts, not necessarily quantity.

A Happy and Blessed Thanksgiving Day to you and your families!

Love,
Father Kevin

Recycling for Change

Since the beginning of October, the fourth graders have been busy collecting plastic bottles in a cardboard box in their classroom. When the box is filled, the bottles are recycled. So far they have collected over $20! The students want to use the money that they receive from recycling to give back to the school and buy equipment for all of the students in the school to use at recess.

Take Five for Faith

Sunday, November 22: Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe

Today's great feast is both fitting and just a bit awkward. It has historical roots in a secular political struggle over the Vatican's territory, and Jesus himself rejected any kingship in the temporal sense, and thus was mocked by the Romans with a crown of thorns and the title "king of the Jews." So it could be helpful to understand today's celebration as referring to Christ's dominion over the human heart and spirit. Christ reigns in each of us when we aspire to know and to serve the Lord by doing what he did among us—healing, teaching, reconciling, caring, loving. That's the terrain where Christ is king. Invite Christ into the universe of your heart today and every day.

Monday, November 23

Feast of St. Clement I, pope, martyr

One of the principles that has helped the church endure these past 2,000 years despite all internal failings and external attacks is that of apostolic succession, the unbroken chain of leadership from Jesus through Peter down to the present day. Pope Clement I served as one of the earliest links in that chain and helped establish the principle of succession. Though divisions exist—East and West, Reformation and Counter-Reformation—we can hope that the apostolic blessing still at work in the church will bring us all to greater unity and keep this wonderful experiment in faith and compassion going another 2,000 years and beyond.

Tuesday, November 24

Feast of St. Andrew Dung-Lac and companions

Saint Andrew Dung-Lac was one of 117 people martyred in Vietnam in the 1800s, and their sacrifice helped Christianity take hold in their country. There is now a large number of Catholics in Vietnam, but they are still persecuted. People of religions the world over face oppression, discrimination, and even physical danger because of their beliefs—and yet they still maintain their faith and practice their traditions. Emulate their steadfastness (likely in your case in the face of lesser challenges) and extend tolerance to everyone.

Wednesday, November 25

Feast of St. Catherine of Alexandria,

Who first read the writing on the wall? Daniel, with his mystical ability to interpret signs. Enemies consigned him to the lion's den but he was left unharmed. Catherine of Alexandria, also gifted with divine wisdom, faced torment on a wheel that burst apart rather than restrain her. Many seek God's wisdom today by beginning the Miraculous Novena of Grace through the intercession of Francis Xavier—five Our Fathers, Hail Marys, and Glory Be's for nine days for a special intention: "But if what I ask does not tend to Your glory, obtain for me what is more profitable." A wise prayer!

Thursday, November 26: Thanksgiving Day

In the year in which Pope Francis published his encyclical on climate change, Laudate Si (On the Care of Our Common Home), perhaps it would be fitting to recite the first verse of a beloved poem by e.e. cummings: i thank You God for most this amazing / day: for the leaping greenly spirits of trees / and a blue true dream of sky; and for everything / which is natural which is infinite which is yes. A fitting blessing for a table filled with the bounty of the earth. Perhaps we can also take a moment in our conversation to ponder the little things we can each do to keep the earth bountiful and blessed for generations to come.

Friday, November 27

As the church year winds down, we view history through the lens of apocalypse. Produced two centuries before Jesus, the book of Daniel reflects a community weary of foreign rule. Unable to liberate themselves, citizens of Israel hoped for God's final liberation. Today we commemorate Native American Heritage Day, honoring the contributions, sacrifices, and cultural legacy of this land's original peoples. Our shared past is full of painful memories, but our future can be one of respect and courageous dialogue.

Saturday, November 28

Feast of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Honoring Mary on Saturday is a tradition that goes back to at least the seventh century. Through the centuries a variety of theological reasons were given for doing so: God brought creation to fruition on the seventh day (Saturday) and Mary brought salvation to fruition with the birth of Jesus; Sunday is the Lord's Day, so it seemed appropriate to offer the preceding day to Mary, his mother; God rested on the seventh day, the Sabbath, while Jesus rested both in the womb of Mary before birth and in her loving arms at his death. Whatever your own reason for wishing to thank and honor Mary today, take a quiet moment to rest in her presence.
