Holy Family Corner

This is a space for our young families to come and collect books to bring back to their pews to keep the kiddoes engaged during Mass. You may spend a few minutes here with your child to "cool down", do a coloring page or read a book.

Please DO NOT bring crayons back into the church or pews. Your children should never be left here unattended.

We want you to be comfortable back here, but please remember, voices carry.

Reflections on the Readings

A Light to the Nations

Imagine God telling you, “Job well done! Congratulations!” How proud we would be to know that God’s favor had rested on us.

Imagine God saying next, “Because you did so well with this task, I want to give you something more to do.” Would you gulp in apprehension? Would you calmly accept the new directions? Or would you take on the new task with excitement?

In Isaiah’s prophecy, God tells Israel, “You are my servant.” These words comforted the chosen people because it reminded them that God proudly kept their friendship. But God went on. “It is too little for you to be my servant. . . . I will make you a light to the nations.” Ancient Israel would show not just their own people but also other nations how to walk in the light of God.

For Christians, this prophecy points ahead to Jesus, who became known as God’s servant at his baptism. Jesus won God’s pleasure as the longed-for Messiah. But God asked for something more—for Jesus to save all the nations. Jesus opened wide God’s doors of salvation. He accepted God’s task.

What about you?

What task have you done that makes God proud?

Is God asking you for something more?

What might that be?

Checking the Roadmap

If you veer off course, you check the map or get directions. If you want to get to your destination, you need to remember where your destination is. It also helps to remember why you are going there, in case you get tired along the way.

St. Paul wrote letters to the Corinthians in Greece because they were getting off course. He reminded them about the basics of the Christian life and answered a few of their specific questions. Paul had spent a year and a half with this community on his missionary journeys. He stayed at the home of Aquila and Priscilla, who had emigrated there from Rome during the persecution of Claudius. Paul shared faith, ethnicity, and occupation with Aquila: they were tentmakers (Acts 18:1-11).

Now Paul had moved on, but some problems had surfaced with this community after he left.

So he sat down with his friend Sosthenes and wrote a letter to the Corinthians.

He starts with a brief glimpse at the roadmap. He writes the letter “to you who have been sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be holy, with all those everywhere who call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.” There was bickering within the church at Corinth. People complained about everything from liturgy to hair to food. Paul reminded them that they are holy and that all who believe in Christ are holy. Whenever any church community veers off course, it’s good to look back at the map.
